Summary

My career has spanned various industries, from customer service to project management and financial analysis, each teaching me valuable skills. In customer service, I learned patience and effective communication, essential for staying calm under trading pressure. Project management honed my organizational skills and attention to detail, crucial for structuring trading plans. Financial analysis taught me the importance of data-driven decision-making, which underpins my trading strategy. Despite facing failures in trading, each setback has been a learning experience, reinforcing my resilience and adaptability. By focusing on high-probability trades and maintaining a positive risk-reward ratio, I've turned challenges into consistent profits, making day trading a journey of continuous growth.

Experience

Rejuvenate Surgery Center

Admin Assistant

January 2022 - Present (4 years 7 months)

Onboarding a nurse for surgical operations involves a thorough and structured process to ensure they are fully prepared and integrated into the surgical team. The first step is providing comprehensive orientation, which includes familiarizing them with the hospital's protocols, equipment, and software systems. Next, the nurse must be trained in the specific requirements for preparing the operating room (OR) for surgery. This involves understanding the sterilization procedures, proper arrangement of surgical instruments, and ensuring that all necessary supplies are available and in their designated places. Additionally, the onboarding process includes meetings with the surgical team, particularly the doctors they will be working with, to establish communication protocols and workflow expectations. These meetings help the nurse understand the preferences and needs of each surgeon, facilitating smooth and efficient surgical procedures. By focusing on these key areas, the onboarding process ensures that the nurse is competent, confident, and ready to contribute effectively to the surgical team.

4o Rumble Los Olivos Boxing

Sales/Front Desk Associate

December 2022 - December 2023 (1 year 1 month)

Working at Rumble Boxing involves a dynamic and multifaceted role that combines maintaining the studio's cleanliness, selling memberships, interacting with clients, and overseeing the gym's daily operations. As part of the team, you ensure the studio is spotless and inviting, creating a welcoming atmosphere for all members. Selling memberships requires a deep understanding of the gym's offerings and the ability to communicate their value effectively to potential clients. Interaction with clients is a key aspect, fostering a sense of community and support while addressing their needs and feedback. Additionally, overseeing the gym involves ensuring equipment is in top condition, classes run smoothly, and any issues are promptly resolved, ensuring a seamless and enjoyable experience for everyone. This role demands excellent organizational, sales, and interpersonal skills, contributing to the overall success and reputation of Rumble Boxing.

Crestmont Capital

Financial Consultant

July 2022 - December 2022 (6 months)

This was my first office job, It had given me a lot of phone experience. I now understand how to conduct phone conversations and make sales. I can tell what to say next when talking to a potential client. I'm extremely straightforward, therefore I have no trouble taking charge of the call. This job gave me chance and a vision for my future in finance. As I work for new companies, I want to boost their sales, bringing in exponential revenue. Crestmont Capital was the number one company on Forbes and I'm very grateful to be part of it. Worked with departments across the company, including marketing and project management, in developing new ideas, initiatives, products, and services. Provided customer service and was involved in training with new team members each month. Executed company policies, procedures, and safety standards to ensure the proper cleanliness and safety of the office and equipment

9Round Fitness

Trainer

July 2021 - July 2022 (1 year 1 month)

I learned the value of speaking up so that the fighters may understand you through this position. My ability to speak up has helped me significantly in my future endeavors. I found that an important part of the training was time management. I discovered that the task required more time before and after the scheduled time in order to prepare and interact with the fighters. However, I had to learn how to devote the same amount of time to each combatant during the training session. Created a nutrition plan and shopping list for clients Helped a client with weight loss by entering data into a spreadsheet Regularly provided one-on-one training and advice to employees, managers, and executives Trained a new employee who was previously unable to speak or walk Developed a plan to maximize healthy food choices for clients

Yoshiharu Ramen

Waiter

January 2020 - July 2020 (7 months)

Obtaining knowledge about the food industry as a server. I gained a lot of knowledge on how to interact with guests and maintain the restaurant tidy. Although I initially had some challenges, I now encounter no trouble dealing with consumers when providing food service. In order to ensure that customers were satisfied, this position required a strong sense of urgency. Provide excellent customer service. Take and deliver orders ensuring orders are correctly and properly prepared. Used the computer system to enter all orders. Provide accurate tickets to customers and offer any additional assistance to ensure a pleasant dining experience.

Apex Physical Therapy

Intern

January 2019 - June 2019 (6 months)

I learned a lot while working as an intern in the medical industry. I had to really push myself to communicate differently with the various patients. We would instruct the patients on how to perform the types of exercises required for rehabilitation. The patients would receive education, and we would assess what they were doing and how. I was instructed to speak in a way that the patient can understand. Additionally, I would perform much simpler tasks like sanitizing the weight of equipment so that it is safe for use. Executed company policies, procedures, and safety standards to ensure the proper cleanliness and safety of the office and equipment Developed relationships with new staff members, and assisted existing staff members in their career development Maintained a clean and safe work environment, resulting in a reduction in complaints filed with management and an increase in crew satisfaction
