Haniya Hassaan

Finance Coordinator at Women Business Association | Instructor at Creative Brain Learning | Finance Student at UC Riverside
Irvine, California, United States

Summary

Hello, my name is Haniya Hassaan, and I am a current undergraduate business student at UC Riverside. I am interested in finance, consulting, and management. I have previously completed two business-related internships, the most recent being in association with EY and CLAOC during the summer of 2025. In this internship, I focused on financial consulting for sustainability initiatives at Disneyland, ultimately developing three consulting solutions and presenting my findings to EY representatives.

Additionally, my second internship was at UCI Medical Center, where I worked on promoting the medical app MyChart through marketing strategies and initiatives.

At UC Riverside, I am actively involved in clubs, specifically MTC, a tech collaborative club focused on bringing opportunities and valuable experiences to students. In MTC, I serve as the Vice President of Finance, where I manage budgeting, club funds, and expenses. I am also involved in PSA, where I contribute to content creation and social media management.

Furthermore, I co-founded the Desi Chai Society, an organization dedicated to connecting culture and professionalism in the workforce. In this organization, I focus on finance, leadership, marketing, documentation, and event coordination.

These experiences have allowed me to develop valuable skills in communication, leadership, analytical reasoning, and decision-making. They are directly aligned with my career aspiration of pursuing a career in financial consulting.

Experience

Women's Business Association at UCR

8 months

Finance Coordinator

March 2026 - Present (5 months)

Riverside, California, United States

Finance Intern

December 2025 - Present (8 months)

I serve as a Finance Intern for the Women Business Association at UC Riverside, where I support the financial operations and sustainability of the organization. In this role, I manage the collection and deposit of dues, fees, and incoming funds, while overseeing financial transactions such as reimbursements and supply purchases. I maintain and regularly update the organization's budget spreadsheet and financial records to ensure accuracy, transparency, and compliance. I also advise the executive board on budgeting needs for events, including cost projections for food, supplies, and venue expenses when necessary. Additionally, I assist with applying for ASUCR and external funding opportunities to support programming and initiatives. I collaborate closely with the Events Team by purchasing items through virtual shopping carts and completing reimbursements, and I support fundraising efforts by coordinating with the Finance Coordinator to plan and execute designated fundraisers each quarter. During events, I manage food sign-in sheets to track attendance and food distribution. By combining structured organization, precise attention to financial detail, and proactive collaboration with leadership and team members, I contribute meaningfully to the organization's financial integrity and sustainable success.

Muslim Student Association, UCR

8 months

Ramadan Committee Head

February 2026 - Present (6 months)

Logistics Co-Head

December 2025 - February 2026 (3 months)

Creative Brain Learning

After School Instructor

December 2025 - Present (8 months)

Riverside, California, United States

In my role, I teach children and lead an after-school program, where I am responsible for supervising and engaging 25 to 30 students at a time. I design and facilitate age-appropriate lessons that encourage creativity, curiosity, and active learning across subjects including STEM, arts, and life skills. I ensure a safe, supportive, and structured learning environment while adapting lessons to meet the diverse learning styles and needs of each student.

Beyond instruction, I manage classroom organization, guide group activities, foster positive behavior, and support students' academic and social development. Leading the after-school program has strengthened my leadership, communication, and problem-solving skills, while allowing me to create meaningful educational experiences that inspire children to learn, collaborate, and grow. Through this role, I am able to combine education, creativity, and mentorship to make a positive impact on young learners and their communities.

Desi Chai Society

VP & Founder of Desi Chai Society

September 2025 - Present (11 months)

I am the Co-Founder and Vice President of the Desi Chai Society, a professional and cultural student organization dedicated to increasing South Asian representation across diverse career pathways. The organization creates a space where students can connect with South Asian professionals, explore career opportunities, and build community through both professional development and cultural engagement. Desi Chai Society hosts panel discussions, networking events, and speaker series that highlight the experiences and career journeys of South Asians across industries.

In my role as Vice President, I lead and coordinate multiple teams, oversee event planning, and contribute to the strategic direction of the organization. I design and manage presentation slides for panels and meetings, guide team members through execution, and ensure alignment across logistics, outreach, and programming. I also play a key leadership role in organizing philanthropy initiatives and fundraising events, working to support community-focused causes while strengthening member engagement. Through this position, I have developed strong leadership, communication, and organizational skills, while helping build an inclusive platform that empowers South Asian students to see themselves represented, supported, and successful in their careers.
